ORDER FOR SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

On this 7th day of April, 2017, it was brought to the attention of the Court the following:

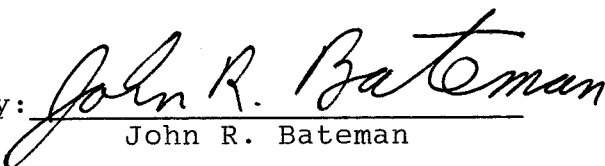

1. On the 5th day of June, 2002, a stop payment order was issued so that income intended for the surviving spouse was not properly received and would not be received until the Separate Property was distributed in 3 equal divisions on the 15th day of October, 2003. (Only then did income intended for the surviving spouse resume regular distribution from the Separate Property Marital Trust _ John, lawfully.)
2. This lapse of income distribution to the surviving spouse from Separate Property constituted a violation of Tax Code, thereby resulting in a deadline of the 15th day of August, 2002, for payment of taxes due since the 15th day of November, 2001.
3. On the 8th day of March, 2005, $300,000.00 was withdrawn by check number 1001 from the Community Property Marital Trust.
4. On the 1st day of July, 2005, required reports were abruptly cancelled. (See the Last Will and Testament of Harold Marion Bateman, page 6, paragraph 7.)

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, JOHN ROBERT BATEMAN prays that the Court enter an Order for Specific Performance as follows:

1. $20,000.00 each from the Separate Property Marital Trusts - John, Jim, and Ben be transferred as income to the Estate of Martha Joan Bateman.
2. All United States Federal and State taxes due be paid properly.
3. $300,000.00 be returned to the Community Property Marital Trust.
4. Required reports be provided to all interested parties upon initial request.

Respectfully submitted,

John Robert Bateman

(2) A trust may not be revoked by an attorney-in-fact under a power of attorney...

2-33-416. Division of trusts. On petition by a...beneficiary, the Court, for good cause shown, may divide a trust into... separate trusts, if the Court determines that dividing the trust will not defeat or substantially impair...the interests of the beneficiary.

Part 6. Trustees

2-33-604. Certificate of trustee. On application by the trustee, the clerk of the district Court shall issue a certificate that the trustee is a duly appointed and acting trustee under the trust if the Court file shows the incumbency of the trustee.

2-33-617. The liability for acts or omissions of a resigning trustee...is not released or affected in any manner by the trustee's resignation.

2-33-618. Removal of a trustee (2)The grounds for removal of trustee:

- (a) if the trustee has committed a breach of the trust;
- (c) if hostility of lack of cooperation among co-trustees impairs;
- (d) if the trustee fails to act; or (e) for other good cause.

(3) If it appears to the Court that trust property or the interests of a beneficiary may suffer loss...the Court may... on petition of a beneficiary, compel the trustee whose removal is sought to surrender trust property...to a receiver or temporary trustee. The Court may also suspend the powers of the trustee to the extent the Court considers necessary.

2-33-620. Delivery of property by former trustee upon occurrence of vacancy...former trust...shall deliver the trust property... to a person appointed by the Court...and remains responsible for the trust property until it is delivered. A trustee who...is removed has the powers reasonably necessary...to preserve the trust property until it is delivered...

2-33-621. Appointment of trustee to fill vacancy.

(3)...on petition of ...a beneficiary the Court may, in its discretion, appoint a trustee...In selecting a trustee, the Court shall give consideration to the wishes of the beneficiaries...

2-33-622. Capacity of trustee.

(1) The trustee may be...a trust company or corporation.

(2) A beneficiary of a trust may be the trustee of the trust.

Chapter 34. Trust Administration

Part 11. Duties of Trustees

2-34-105. Duty to avoid conflict of interest.

(1) The trustee has a duty not to use...trust property for the trustee's own profit...

(3) Transaction between trustee and beneficiary by which trustee obtains an advantage...violation of trustee's fiduciary duties.

2-34-106. Duty not to undertake adverse trust. The trustee of one trust has a duty not to knowingly become a trustee of another trust adverse in its nature...to beneficiary...

2-34-107. Duty to take control of and to preserve trust property.

2-34-113. Duty not to delegate entire administration of trust.

(1)...may not transfer the office of trustee to another person or delegate administration...

2-34-116. Duty with respect to cotrustees.

(2) to prevent cotrustee from committing a breach of trust or to compell redress of a breach of trust.

2-34-124. Trustee's general duty to report information to beneficiaries. The trustee has a duty to keep the beneficiaries of the trust reasonably informed of the trust and its administration.

2-34-125. Duty to report information about trust on request... on reasonable request by a beneficiary, the trustee shall provide the beneficiary with a report of information about assets...

Part 5. Liability of Trustees to Beneficiaries

2-34-501. Breach of trust. A violation by the trustee of any duty that the trustee owes the beneficiary is a breach of trust.

2-34-503. Trustees liability to beneficiary for acts of cotrustee.

(2) A trustee is liable to the beneficiary for a breach...

(a) whenever the trustee participates in a breach of trust committed by the cotrustee;

(c) whenever the trustee approves, knowingly acquiesces in, or conceals a breach of trust...by...cotrustee;

2-34-512. Exculpation of trustee.

(2) A provision in the trust instrument is not effective to relieve the trustee of liability:

(a) for breach of trust committed intentionally, with gross negligence, or with reckless indifference to the interest of the beneficiary; or

VI PROBATE CODE SPECIAL TYPES OF ADMINISTRATION

Where son who inherited title to a portion of father's share of community estate, on father's death, the grantee could bring an action to establish and confirm his title, where the wife qualified as survivor and repudiated the grantee's title and claim and held adversely thereto.

Miller v. Miller (Civil Appeals 1921) 227 S.W. 737.

Verdict that deeds by the surviving (parent) of a community, conveying community property to creditors, were procured by fraud or coercion to the injury of the rights of the children of the grantor (parents).

Lipsitz v. Rice (Civil Appeals 1921) 233 S.W. 594.

Deed by surviving widow of not only her individual interest in the community estate but also her deceased husband's half of the community property for her individual benefit was void, and, since widow held property as statutory trustee for her children, they were entitled to recover the trust property and four-year statute of limitations did not apply to actions. Gray v. Gray (Civil Appeals 1968) 424 S.W. 2d 309 ref. n.r.e..

A conveyance by a (parent) of (community property), made after the (spouse's) death, did not divest the child's title to one-half thereof as heir.

White v. Simonton (Civil Appeals 1902) 67 S.W. 1073.

dismissed w.o.j., motion overruled 68 S.W. 1000.

(Power not lost) regarding community property by lapse of four years after death of husband.

Davis v. Magnolia Petroleum Co. (Civil Appeals 1937)

105 S.W. 2d 695, affirmed 134 Tex. 201, 134 S.W. 2d 1042.

While the father could have set off gifts made to his children against their interest in the community estate, he could not authorize his executors to do so by disposing of the part of the community estate which would go to the children.

Tomlinson v. H. P. Drought & Co. (Civil Appeals 1910)

127 S.W. 262, error refused.

Under Revised Civil Statutes 1911, Article 2469 (see §45), husband's share of the community estate passed to his children or their descendants on his death, subject to the administrative right of the surviving wife to control, manage, and dispose of the community property under Revised Civil Statutes 1911, article 3600, and the action of the wife in qualifying as survivor did not divest the children of the title so acquired. Miller v. Miller (Civil Appeals 1921) 227 S.W. 737.

If property belonging to the community was sold by the community administrator, and the proceeds invested, the children could claim the same rights in community property interest in the investments purchased as in the original community property.

Hales v. Peters (Civil Appeals 1913) 162 S.W. 386, error refused.

In a suit against the surviving spouse of a community estate by the heirs, to enjoin the wasting of assets, and to have an interest in some of the assets deposited in defendant's name, that defendant had departed from her frugal habits and shrewd business management.

Ward v. Veale (Civil Appeals 1923) 253 S.W. 844.

The child who sues for his share in the community property of a deceased parent is not asserting an equity, but a legal title. Johnson v. Harrison (1877) 48 Tex. 268;
Dickerson v. Abernathy (Common Appeals 1880) 1 U.C. 107.

Community estate, by widow who was statutory community survivor of community estate of deceased husband, was a deed of gift. The grantee had the burden of showing, in trespass to try title by deceased's daughter, that the widow had the power to give the realty to the grantee.

Keller v. Downey (Civil Appeals 1942) 161 S.W. 2d 803.

Affirmed 143 Tex. 171, 183 S.W. 2d 426.

District accepted delivery of community property from and paid consideration to the parent who was not authorized to act for the sons, and who did not pay sons their share of consideration. District could not escape liability to sons for their share on ground that property was community property.

Willacy County Water Control & Improvement Dist. No. 1

v. Hofer (Civil Appeals 1941) 149 S.W. 2d 1114.

"Good Faith" as used in connection with the conduct of a community survivor with respect to the community estate does not mean freedom to do with estate as survivor may choose, or reasonable grounds to believe that disposition of trust is legal, or honest intention to abstain from taking advantage of another, but is control of the trust estate for purposes sanctioned by the statute, in administration of the estate and to protect the trust on demand for partition and distribution...to the persons entitled to receive the surplus.

McFarland v. Beaton (Civil Appeals 1939) 126 S.W. 2d 719.

Affirmed 134 Tex. 652, 134 S.W. 2d 1058.

Where administration was granted on estate of husband, wife's control over community property ceased, and estate passed under jurisdiction of Probate Court for administration and settlement.

Waterman Lumber & Supply Co. v. Robbins, 1918, 206 S.W. 825.

Where the surviving wife had consented to and joined in a petition for the appointment of an adult son as general administrator, it was improvident to subsequently grant her an appointment as community administratrix; the law not contemplating two independent administrations at the same time. McCarthy v. Texas Co. (Civil Appeals 1921) 235 S.W. 679.

On the granting of letters of administration to a third party, the wife's control over the community estate ceases, and the estate passes under the jurisdiction of the County Court.

Hollingsworth v. Davis (1884) 62 Tex. 438.

When there is a community estate, (the surviving spouse) has the choice to administer regularly or to take charge of the estate as community administrator and survivor of the community, but in either case the property vests in the children at the death of their mother.

Belt v. Cetti (Sup. 1906) 100 Tex. 92, 93 S.W. 1000.

VIII PROCEEDINGS DURING ADMINISTRATION

NOTE 2. CLAIMS ALLOWABLE

Where son had filed two suits in District Court against his adoptive mother seeking total damages of $2,700,000.00, claim based on those suits was rejected by temporary administrator, and the temporary administrator was joined as party defendant within 90 days from date of his rejection, the son's action of joining the temporary administrator as party defendant in the District Court suits was sufficient to preserve his claim.

Wilder v. Mossler (Civil Appeals 1979) 583 S.W. 2d 664.

NOTE 11. COMPROMISE AND SETTLEMENT

Son's actions against adoptive mother's estate for wrongful acts as executrix of her husband's estate and for wrongful conduct of affairs of corporation in which she owned a controlling interest and the son owned a minority interest dealt with unliquidated potential liability of kind that requires fact-findings to ascertain their amount; thus, they did not constitute "claim for money" of kind that must be presented to executor or administrator for approval as provided by §298 and Probate Court was not deprived of jurisdiction to entertain application to settle and compromise such litigation on basis that the claim had been rejected by temporary administrator and the son had thereafter failed to timely institute action in Probate Court.

Wilder v. Mossler (Civil Appeals 1979) 583 S.W. 2d 664.

An action may be brought by the heirs of the deceased (husband) for their interest. By specific statutory authority, a community administration can continue indefinitely, and the community administrator becomes a statutory trustee. Thus, heirs, as beneficiaries of the trust, are not barred by the statute of limitations from claiming their beneficial interest in the trust after the trustee has done some act that shows repudiation of the trust and that information is, or with reasonable diligence would be, brought to the knowledge of the beneficiary.

Matter of Jackson's Estate (Civil Appeals 1981) 613 S.W. 2d 80, ref. n.r.e. 620 S.W. 2d 102.

Equitable partition of the parents' community estate was made between children.

Nowlin v. Clary (Civil Appeals 1915) 178 S.W. 571, error refused.

A daughter received full satisfaction of her claim against her mother's estate.

Suggs v. Singley (Civil Appeals 1914) 167 S.W. 241.

In an action by a daughter to establish her interest in the community estate, the settlement was made for her interest out of her mother's separate estate.

Hand v. Errington, 1922, 242 S.W. 722 .

PROBATE STATEMENT OF JOHN ROBERT BATEMAN

After my father died, I expected that his Last Will and Testament would be executed correctly and conscientiously. Unfortunately, this proper execution did not happen, and now I find myself in the unexpected position of defending my honorable father's will.

Your Honor's attention is directed to the exhibit of the Last Will and Testament of Harold Marion Bateman which shows the general principle of equal divisions of gifts when required. (1) (c) (ii) Upon the death of Martha Joan Bateman, the Community Marital Trust remainder is to be distributed equally in three equal divisions. (3) Commencing at death, income from the Separate Property must be distributed to Martha Joan Bateman. (4) Unfortunately, proper income distribution did not happen. Your Honor's attention is directed to the exhibits of financial statements concerned with my late father's property. The April-May 2002 statements demonstrate the correct transfer of the Separate Property income twice per month to an account under Martha Joan Bateman's control which had been underway since my father's death.

However, the mismanagement, misconduct, and negligence of James Daniel Bateman, serving as father's executor would be demonstrated. A Stop Payment Order was issued on June 5, 2002 so that this income was not properly received and would not be received until the Separate Property was distributed in three equal divisions of October 15, 2003. (Only then was I legally able to resume the income transfer from my equal 1/3 rd division properly). In the meantime, in November 2002, the Community Property Trust was formed. However, in addition to refusing to purchase a grave marker for his father, James Daniel Bateman stole even more money from his mother. Your Honor's attention is directed to the next exhibit of financial statements. In October 2003, James Daniel Bateman ordered that cash, which should have already been received by his mother, instead be deposited to personal accounts. In December 2003, James Daniel Bateman ordered again the same sort of fiscal misappropriation. Thus, during this time, a slanderous, libelous, chronic alcoholic improperly executed my father's Will and abuses his power even to the present day. The company trust department would have done better.

Your Honor's attention is directed back to the Last Will and Testament of Harold Marion Bateman. (page 6 paragraph 7) Initially reports were not made available for about half a year in 2002, and were only provided to me upon special request. Then, July 1, 2005 reports were abruptly cancelled without warning or explanation. Further special requests did not produce the reports required by father's Will. I petition the Court to order Specific Performance as provided by V.A.T.S. Texas Probate Code section 500 chapter XII to resume provision of the specific reports.

As previously cited in this claim, paragraph (3) provides, upon distribution, for an equal three-way division of the Community Property Marital Trust. Harold Marion Bateman has three descendants to which he intended to provide three equal shares of his property as demonstrated by a flow chart exhibit. Providing everything to his sons in exactly equal amounts was a hallmark and guiding principle of his fatherhood. This provision for an equal three-way division of the Community Property Marital Trust must not be interfered with in any way. Your Honor's attention is directed to the statement of the Harold Marion Bateman Community Property Marital Trust. In March 2005, a substantial value of $300,000 was illegally withdrawn from this Trust. I petition the Court to order Specific Performance to return a refund of this money to where it belongs.
